

WARD VICTORIOUS IN WESTCHESTER; RUTH TAYLOR WINS

Clean Sweep for Republican Organization Leader at Primaries in County.

William L. Ward, veteran Republican leader of Westchester County, made a clean sweep in the primaries.
Returns tabulated to-day showed the regular organization had nominated every candidate. Even Yonkers, stronghold of the revolt, voted two to one for Arthur Rowland for District Attorney. J. Fred Easer, opposition candidate for that office, did not even carry his home city of Mount Vernon.
Fifteen of the 27 districts in Mount Vernon gave Rowland 628 and Easer 583.

The vote appeared to be about three to one against Easer elsewhere. In New Rochelle 24 out of 35 districts gave Rowland 586 and Easer 284.

Easer had made an active campaign in which the alleged leniency shown to Walter S. Ward, under indictment for murder, was the leading issue.

Great interest was manifested in the contest between Miss Ruth Taylor and Arthur L. Strang, a White Plains lawyer, for nomination for Judge of the Children's Court, which Miss Taylor won. Strang was supported by members of the local bar, who felt that this office should be filled by a lawyer.

In White Plains, Miss Taylor polled

669 votes against 571 for Strang.
Miss Taylor did not make as good a showing in other parts of the county as did other ward candidates, however.

The closest fight was in the 25th Senatorial District, largely in Yonkers.
The opposition, headed by former Sheriff Wiesendanger of Yonkers, confidently expected to nominate William Gaul for the Senate, but late returns showed that Seabury C. Mac-tick, organization candidate, was safely ahead.

Walter W. Westall, regular candidate, was nominated by a large majority in the 25th Senatorial District.
The successful candidates in the five Assembly Districts are: First District, Channing T. Moore; 2d District, Herbert H. Shenk; 3d District, Millard E.
Goodrich; 4th District, Russell B.
Livermore; and 5th District, George Blakely.

The Eighteenth Amendment played a large part in the fight for Assembly nominations in the 3d District, where Judge George Cowie, independent, and Village President Goodrich of Ossin-ing, the regular candidate, fought for the nomination. Judge Cowie urged modification of the Volstead act, while President Goodrich insisted that the law should remain as it is. Consequently the fight simmered down virtually to a wet and dry campaign.

The voters in Ossining were about evenly divided on the subject, judging by the vote for each candidate in the town. President Goodrich received 517 votes and Judge Cowie 504. Cortland Town, however, went on record as favoring the dry candidate and rolled up a vote of 504 for Goodrich against 191 for Judge Cowie.

County Clerk Louis N. Ellrodt of Mount Vernon, was renominated by a big majority, as was V. Everett Macy, the millionaire Commissioner of Welfare. Only 40 per cent. of the 42,000 enrolled Republicans in the county voted.

Benjamin L. Fairchild of Pelham was renominated for Congress in the 24th District, and Assistant Secretary of War J. Mayhem Walnright of Rye was named in the 25th.

Channing Moore of Bronxville was renominated over Mrs. Mabel Mc-Kinley Baer, insurgent candidate.

Mrs. Baer is a niece of the late President McKinley and made a hard fight.
County Judge William F. Bleakley of Yonkers received a renomination as he had no opponent in either the Republican or Democratic primaries and is certain of another term of six years.

This was the first time in years that opponents of "Boss" Ward had placed a full ticket in the field. Former Mayor Leslie Sutherland of Yonkers, former Sheriff Ulrich Wiesendanger of Yonkers, former Mayor Kincaid of Mount Vernon, and twenty other Republicans form the nucleus of the revolt.

George H. Taylor Jr. of Mount Vernon, President of the Westchester Bar Association, is sure of the nomination for Justice of the Supreme Court in the 9th District to succeed Justice Martin J. Keogh, who retires because of age limit.

There was no contest in the Democratic primary. The candidates, in addition to Judge Bleakley, are: For Judge of the Children's Court, George C. Appell; County Clerk, William Handy; Commissioner of Public Welfare, Frank J. Lomb; Coroner, John R. Evers; District Attorney, Walter C. G. Otto; Senator, 25th District, James F. Carroll; Senator, 26th District, George F. O'Neill; First Assembly District, William W. Young; Second Assembly District, A. J. Young; Third Assembly District, no candidate; Fourth Assembly District, George F. Holden; Fifth Assembly District, A. J. Miller; 24th Congressional District, James V. Ganly; 25th Congressional District, no candidate.

ENGINE KILLS A DEER BLINDED BY HEADLIGHT

HANMONTOWN, N. J., Sept. 20.—A three-prong buck deer was found dead beside the track of the Reading Railing on the tracks was paralyzed with
